

Christine Waters

Director, Spent Fuel

Christine Waters joined UxC, LLC (UxC) in October of 2010 and currently holds the position of Editor, Back-End Publications. In this role, Ms. Waters contributes to and edits the SpentFUEL industry newsletter and the StoreFUEL monthly report. Both reports, published by UxC since 2007, cover major global developments related to the back-end of the nuclear fuel cycle. Ms. Waters also provides research and editing support for other various UxC products and assists with the daily Headline News service. Prior to joining UxC, Ms. Waters worked as a communications specialist for the Defense Visual Information Distribution Service (DVIDS), which provides an accurate source for media organizations to communicate with the U.S. military across the globe.

Ms. Waters earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in communications from Mercer University, where she studied psychology and English and graduated on the Dean's List. Ms. Waters has also completed her certification as a paralegal through Emory University and worked at a law firm in Atlanta before choosing to join the UxC team.
