

Jeffrey Combs

Assistant Vice President, International

Jeffrey Combs holds the position of Assistant Vice President, International at UxC, LLC (UxC). In this capacity, he is responsible for UxC's news services, including UxC's daily news headlines service and the news content of the Ux Weekly. He also contributes to the UxC market reports and indicators, as well as UxC's Country Profiles, and was a principal contributor to UxC's study on the Evolution of the French Nuclear Industry and the principal author of a UxC report on nuclear power in India. Previously, he held the position of associate technical writer at ADP, where he was responsible for developing user manuals and online help systems. Prior to ADP, he worked as a technical writer at Shoap Technical Services.

Mr. Combs graduated from Southern Polytechnic University with a Bachelor of Science degree in technical communications, where he was named the outstanding senior in his major. He is proficient in French.

Updated: 4/12/12